VICTORY NATIONAL GUARDS WILL COME TO GRAYLING.

THE STATE LEGISLATURE HAS VOTED TO ACCEPT R. HANSON'S OFFER OF CAMP SITE.

Bill Now in Hands of Governor Ferris Ready for Final Signature.

The Grayling Military Camp site bill was passed in the senate this morning by a vote of 27 to 5 in its favor. The house then re-passed the bill with an appropriation of $30,000—$5,000 for immediate use, $10,000 for June 1st and $15,000 for next year, with but two negative votes. The bill is now in the hands of the governor and will probably receive his signature before night.

This has probably been the biggest proposition before the present legislature and has brought out the biggest fight, but we have won, for which we are extremely happy. Our opponents have lost but it is not the desire of the people of Grayling to heap burning coals upon their heads nor bring discomfort to them by crowing over our victory. What we wanted was the permanent camp site at this place, not revenge. True, the Ludington and other papers have handed our people some burning remarks, but for all this we bear no malice—we believe that we are too big for this.

Grayling is one of the best little cities in Michigan, and Mr. Hanson through his generosity in giving the state 13,000 acres of land for a permanent camp site for the Michigan National guard, is going to do more toward advertising our county than any other one thing. That our people are appreciative of these good things that come to us is fully manifest by the keen interest that they have taken in the matter of getting the military camp. It has been the chief topic of interest here for several weeks.

This is going to mean more and better things for Grayling right away. We will have a railroad to Portage Lake; we will have a fine new hotel; we will have more residences and more people in our city and this is going to be one of the best towns to live in in the state. And as this paper said last week, "Everybody get ready to give three times three and a tiger, one for the 'only town on the map', one for the donor of the land for the state military encampment, and one for our assured victory". Well, we are ready for the whole smear.

Throughout the fight to obtain the permanent camp site for the Michigan National Guards, the Grayling bill has stood squarely upon its merits. We had no organized committee of lobbyists to fight our battles for us, we have used no tactics that were not fair to the opponents of the other sites, we have opened no barrels and used no political patronage levers.

It is quite generally known to those who have taken the trouble to investigate that the sites at Holland and Ludington are offered the state for monetary reasons. Ludington citizens have about 12,000 acres of land that they wanted to sell the state for $20 an acre. And at Holland there was a similar condition, besides a military encampment at that place would be made a feature for large excursions from Grand Rapids and thus put enormous sums of money into the pockets of the Holland Interurban officials and the Grand Rapids Street Railway Co.

The fight has been vigorous and wicked to beat Grayling, with Paul King as chief gun show man. About every trick known to the legislators has been resorted to in their efforts to beat us, but in spite of all this the Grayling bill passed the house of representatives by a vote of 71 to 4.

At first one would be surprised to know that there was any opposition at all to the accepting of Mr. Hanson's free offer of 13,000 acres of land to the state to be used for military purposes and a game preserve, yet when it is understood that our opponents have the sale of their land for more than a quarter of million of dollars at stake, it may readily be understood. The boosters, who were booming Holland and Ludington for a permanent camp site and claiming benefits for that site over Grayling are right. There are benefits, but they are financial benefits for the boosters and not military.

Nearly all of these boosters know little and care less about the military advantages of the proposed sites. Not 5 per cent of them have served in the National Guard. They are looking at the proposition from a monetary standpoint. The National Guard, although not as good as it might be, is still the first reserve of the nation and when war comes thousands of young lives will be snuffed out through lack of preparation. Have they a right for the sake of a few dollars in their pockets to buck the Grayling site which can and will reduce the lack of preparation 25 to 50 per cent.

2,500 enlisted men who have placed themselves at the call of the state and nation desires to have all the preparation possible so that the Michigan National Guard may become an efficient unit in the national reserve.

A few dozen of civilians may desire some other site, but 2,500 enlisted men to say nothing of their officers, want Grayling for a camp site. Deep down in his heart he believes every Holland and Ludington booster knows that from a purely military standpoint that Grayling is it and Holland and Ludington are out of luck.

The M. N. G. needs Grayling now and perhaps some day Michigan may need the M. N. G. and we hope they will be ready.

The interests of Grayling have been looked after in the house by Representative J. Lee Morford, of this district, and, although not a member of the legislature, Orlando F. Barnes. To these gentlemen the people of Michigan may well take off their hats for the good work they have done. True they have had the best end of the deal to advocate but without their untiring vigilance and effective influence the Grayling bill would have been knocked out before coming up for passage in the house. Governor Ferris also is deserving the highest regard for the honest stand he is known to have taken in this matter. He appeared before the house with a special message, urging the acceptance of the Grayling site. Also T. W. Hanson, Martin Hanson, Henry Bauman, Majors Vandercreek and Rogers and others associated with them are deserving of a lot of credit for their loyalty to Grayling and the good work they have done in getting this bill through the legislature.

Fire, which is believed to have been started from a defective flue in a chimney, totally destroyed the building and part of its contents of the Will Havens home on Peninsula avenue last Monday afternoon. Patrick Gibben, a lumber jack from the Blue Lake region was found dead at Frederic Monday morning. A coroner's jury decided that he came to death from the excessive use of alcohol and exposure. He had been with friends Sunday night and started for the hotel; this was the last seen of him until his body was found near a railroad track next morning, where he had evidently lain all night. The whereabouts of any of his relatives being unknown, the body was buried in the potters field at Frederic.

A letter from C. J. Hathaway this morning says "I am better, of course, than when I came so that I get out for a walk several times a day, but still have rheumatism and to spare. I cannot hope to come home in less than two weeks at the earliest, unless I improve faster than in the past." Mr. Hathaway is in Pennsylvania Sanatorium, Pennsylvania avenue, Detroit, which he entered March 25th. His friends here will be glad when he can return fully recovered. During his absence Miss Marguerite Chamberlin and Earl Hewitt are looking after the jewelry business.

Frederic will have one less saloon this year, it is understood, by reason of the license of the late Wm. Callahan having expired. Prosecuting Attorney Palmer has ruled that a license cannot be granted for this saloon and his opinion has been sustained by Attorney General Fellows. There will still be four saloons in that little village which is 2 more than the Warner-Crampton law allows. Also Grayling will have one less. Mr. R. Hanson has purchased the Smith hotel and will come into possession May 1st, and has declared that no saloon license shall be taken out for that place. This will leave six for Grayling—one more than allowed by the above law.

To the Public.

On Monday last during the progress of the fire at the residence of Will Havens on Peninsula avenue during the time in which our fire department was making every effort to save the household goods and prevent the destruction of the residence of Mr. Havens, the department was very much impeded in their work by the assembly of adults and children who persisted after repeated warnings to materially interfere with the efforts of the firemen by continually pressing forward on the workers. Although the intentions of those assembled may have been with the best of motives, nevertheless when a fire occurs in the future I kindly ask that all assembled would refrain from obstructing the firemen in their efforts to save and protect property from being destroyed.

The men composing the fire department are much better qualified to cope with the situation which so rapidly presents itself when a fire occurs, than a curious public who cannot possibly render any material assistance in saving property.

I ask the public when that a fire occurs in the future that they neither impede or obstruct the fire department in their efforts as was done at the recent fire.

Make Us Prove It

We dare not exaggerate to you. We are dependent upon your patronage. To get it we must have your trust and confidence. We make the following statements with a full understanding of what they mean to us. You are safe when you believe in these statements.

For the Bowels

If you only knew as much as we and those who have used them know about Rexall Orderlies, you would be as enthusiastic about recommending them as we are. They taste just like candy. They act so easily and so pleasantly that the taking of them is a pleasure.

Even children like Rexall Orderlies; and you know that if a medicine appeals to a child, it will appeal to grown-ups.

Rexall Orderlies

help chase phlegm, dispep blue and make you feel happy by their splendid tonic, cleansing and strengthening effect upon the bowels—they act to free the system—and keep it free—from the distress and ill feeling that naturally results from irregular and inactive bowels.

Rexall Orderlies do this quickly, without griping or causing nausea, purging or excessive looseness. They act to overcome and remove the cause of bowel ill and in a short time usually make unnecessary the consultation of a physician and purgatives; thus tending to stop such unhealthy habits as may have been formed.

Make Us Prove This

We do not ask you to take our word for this. We want you to make us prove it, and at no cost to you. Buy a box of Rexall Orderlies at our store. Use them once, or use up the whole box. Then, if you are not thoroughly satisfied, just come back empty handed and tell us. Without obligation you or questioning you we will return the money you paid us for them.

Doesn't that indicate that Rexall Orderlies are at least worthy of trial? Doesn't it prove our faith in them? Doesn't it merit your confidence? Could any offer be more fair to you?

We particularly recommend Rexall Orderlies for children, delicate and aged persons. Rexall Orderlies come in convenient vest-pocket size tin boxes. 12 tablets, 10c; 20 tablets, 25c; 80 tablets, 50c.

CAUTION: Please bear in mind that Rexall Orderlies are not sold by all drug stores. You can buy Rexall Orderlies only at The Rexall Store. You can buy Rexall Orderlies in this community only at our store:

NEWS FROM THE STATE CAPITOL

GOVERNOR FERRIS EXERCISES VETO POWER FOR THE FIRST TIME.

MOBILE BILL IS PASSED AFTER BITTER FIGHT

One Million Eight Hundred Thousand Is Required by State Institution for the Insane and Feeble Minded

[By Gurd M. Hayes.]

Governor Ferris vetoed his first bill when he refused to approve Senator Kelly's measure authorizing the auditor general to cancel all taxes undischarged where there has been legislative or judicial action to vacate the plat prior to January 1, 1913.

The governor's veto is based on an opinion by the attorney general to the effect that the bill is unconstitutional because it purports to give public property to private individuals.

The governor signed the Skeels bill authorizing counties to establish the office of farm commissioner, whose duty shall be to aid in farm development, and to appropriate money for the purposes of the act. Other bills signed were the Lee bill giving railroad train officials certain police powers; McBride bill to provide for the state inspection of sugar beet weighing and testing; The Crapser bill for pure cheese; Bayliss bill authorizing the state railroad commission to issue free transportation to persons engaged in securing settlers for unimproved farm lands; Henry bill prescribing standard headlights for locomotives; Croll bill adopting the U. S. standard of judging the purity of food products; Woodworth bill to increase the salary of the deputy state treasurer from $2,000 to $2,500; Amberson bill regulating the sale of oleomargarine.

After being passed in the senate by a vote of 22 to 8, in slightly amended form, the Mobile bill which regulates internal insurance societies, was sent back to the house. Here the lobbyists who vainly endeavored to kill this progressive measure, attempted to defeat the amendments proposed by the senate and bring on a delay that would result in the death of the measure.

Rep. Bricker attempted to have the bill tabled and failed by a vote of 55 to 27. The amendments were then adopted against the wishes of the enemies of the measure by a vote of 33 to 24. Rep. Kappeler then came to Bricker's aid and moved to reconsider the vote, in order as he explained, that like the firemen's pension and other matters in which the people are interested, a referendum might be attached. But he failed even with this popular argument. The vote was 49 to 37. The bill will go to the governor where it will be signed.

Desire not to delay proceedings at a time when the house is devoting all its energy in an effort to finish work April 25, prevented an investigation which threatened to end in a legislative scandal. As it was Sergeant-at-Arms A. A. Bush of Detroit was called before the house to explain alleged misconduct.

The incident was precipitated by a resolution by Rep. Follette calling attention to the fact that the sergeant-at-arms was absent without leave and had been on duty in the house in a condition unbecoming an officer of the legislature and asking that a committee be appointed to investigate the sergeant. However, the resolution was tabled.

It cost $1,833,000 for the support of the inmates of the hospitals for the insane and home for the feeble minded, according to a bill passed by the senate carrying an appropriation for that amount to recompense the general fund. Of that amount the Kalamazoo hospital is charged with $348,000; the Pontiac hospital with $246,000; Traverse City $263,000; Newberry $164,000; Ionia $79,000; Ann Arbor hospital $12,000; Wayne county infirmary $39,000; Home for the feeble minded at Lapeer $168,000.

By a vote of 21 to 9 the senate passed the bill introduced by Senator Grace of Kalamazoo which allows cities of more than 10,000 population to settle by a referendum vote the question of whether Sunday amusements shall be allowed.

Mothers who are fighting to keep their families together, but who find the battle too hard, will be given aid by the state if the Amberson-James bill passed by the senate, secures equally favorable consideration in the house. The bill is similar in its provisions to legislation proposed and enacted in other states and it was introduced by Senator James, of Houghton, and Senator Amberson, of Lenawee, and has met with no objection in the senate, either in committee or on the floor or on third reading.

As passed by unanimous vote the bill provides for the relief of mothers having dependent children, under the supervision of probate judges. Those

WILL OF MORGAN IS IN PROBATE

TWENTY MILLION LEFT TO RELATIVES AND VARIOUS CHARITIES.

ENTIRE RESIDUE IS LEFT TO HIS SON.

Instrument Was Executed as Late as January 4 and Opens With Striking Utterance of Religious Belief.

The last will and testament of J. Pierpont Morgan has been offered for probate in New York. It begins with a striking utterance of the late financier's belief in the salvation of his soul through the merits of the blood of Jesus Christ.

The exact amount of the estate can not be determined until the appraisal for inheritance tax has been made, but it is estimated that it will approximate one hundred million dollars.

The will was executed on Jan. 4, last, and a codicil attached on the 6th. Less than twenty millions are left in bequests and the entire residue of the estate goes to his son, J. P. Morgan, Jr. It is estimated that it will amount to the largest sum ever inherited by an individual in America.

Relatives, servants, employees and various charities are remembered. The widow is to receive $100,000 a year and the proceeds of a trust fund to be set up with country and city residences during life. The two sons-in-law receive one million dollars each. One hundred thousand dollars a year is to go to the New York laying-in hospital which was one of Mr. Morgan's favorite charities.

NOTED CHICAGO LAWYER TAKES HIS OWN LIFE DURING NERVOUS BREAKDOWN.

John E. W. Wayman, former state's attorney of Cook county, died from bullet wounds inflicted by himself. He had suffered for several days from the delusion that he was afflicted with appendicitis, according to Dr. W. O. Krohn, the family physician.

Mr. Wayman used an automatic pistol given into his keeping by Charles Lund, whom he was to defend on, a charge of killing Edward Paul, a labor leader.

Wayman was conscious most of the time after the shooting and expressed regret for his act.

The last will and testament of J. Pierpont Morgan has been offered for probate in New York. It begins with a striking utterance of the late financier's belief in the salvation of his soul through the merits of the blood of Jesus Christ.

The exact amount of the estate can not be determined until the appraisal for inheritance tax has been made, but it is estimated that it will approximate one hundred million dollars.

The will was executed on Jan. 4, last, and a codicil attached on the 6th. Less than twenty millions are left in bequests and the entire residue of the estate goes to his son, J. P. Morgan, Jr. It is estimated that it will amount to the largest sum ever inherited by an individual in America.

Relatives, servants, employees and various charities are remembered. The widow is to receive $100,000 a year and the proceeds of a trust fund to be set up with country and city residences during life. The two sons-in-law receive one million dollars each. One hundred thousand dollars a year is to go to the New York laying-in hospital which was one of Mr. Morgan's favorite charities.

NOTED CHICAGO LAWYER TAKES HIS OWN LIFE DURING NERVOUS BREAKDOWN.

John E. W. Wayman, former state's attorney of Cook county, died from bullet wounds inflicted by himself. He had suffered for several days from the delusion that he was afflicted with appendicitis, according to Dr. W. O. Krohn, the family physician.

Certain that Mr. Wayman was coming to a nervous breakdown, the appendicitis scare was used as a subterfuge to induce the patient to go to Excelsior Springs, Mo., for a few days of rest.

Mr. Wayman used an automatic pistol given into his keeping by Charles Lund, whom he was to defend on, a charge of killing Edward Paul, a labor leader.

Wayman was conscious most of the time after the shooting and expressed regret for his act.

"I must have had sand in my gear box when I did this," he told his friends, who were permitted to see him for a few minutes.

During his term Wayman waged a relentless and vigorous fight against the police official, and in doing so became estranged from many of his old friends.

One of the last acts of his administration last November was to close up the south side levee district. He caused all of the houses to be raided and scores of arrests followed.

Squaw Man Is Saved Governor Moorhead, of Nebraska, has approved the bill passed by the legislature which prohibits the marriage of whites and any person who has one-eighth or more of Japanese, Chinese or negro blood. As originally framed the bill included Indians in the prohibition, but this was stricken out.

Appointments by the President In a batch of nominations which President Wilson sent to the senate were the following:

Dudley Field Malone, of New York, to be third assistant secretary of state. John Bassett More, of New York, to be counselor of the department of state.

The state board of health has elected officers for the ensuing year. Dr. Victor Vaughan, of Ann Arbor, has been elected president, and Dr. T. M. Koon, of Grand Rapids, vice-president. May 9, 10 and 11 there will be a state embalmers' examination held at Ann Arbor.

Port Huron suffered a deficit of $10,000 in its schools this year and the city commissioners believe that it will be necessary to assess the maximum per capita to raise an amount sufficient for the coming year.

A special election will be held at Monroe, June 2, for the purpose of voting for commissioners to revise the city charter, in accordance with the decision of the electors April 7.

Just three days after his 106th birthday, Charles Beery, one of Muskegon's two famous French-Canadian centenarians, died at the Muskegon county home.

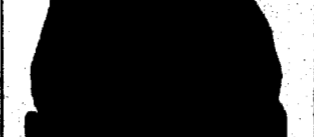

Otto L. Hill has started suit against the city of Port Huron for $5,000. He alleges his property was damaged when repairs were made to a water main.

Thousands of fish covered the grates on the Commonwealth power dam at Ceresco, backing the water up and making it necessary for a gang of men to take them off.

Frank Gurniak, 70, of Bay City, received injuries from which he died when the wagon in which he and his wife were driving turned turtle and pinned them beneath it in a ditch.

Raymond H. Oranger, aged 20 years, of Pontiac, was instantly killed when he fell under the wheels of a caboose in the Grand Trunk yards at Oakland avenue.

AMBASSADOR FROM JAPAN

Viscount Chinda is very much in the public eye since the proposed legislation in California has brought about an acute situation in the relationship of the two nations.

Alarmed by the earnestness of the Japanese in manifesting their objections to the anti-Japanese legislation pending in the state of California, President Wilson abandoned his policy of "hands off" and put the international phase of the situation squarely before Gov. Hiram Johnson, of California.

Secretary Bryan in a message inspired by the president informs the governor that while the right of the state of California to enact such legislation as she may see fit on the subject of land tenure, they are urged to recognize the international character of such legislation and strike out the words "ineligible to citizenship."

Thus President Wilson has adopted essentially the same course in handling the anti-Japanese tendencies of the Pacific coast as was taken by former President Roosevelt in 1907 and more recently by President Taft.

Temporary relief from the strained relations now existing is expected promptly when the president's message is published in Japan. A large part of the Japanese resentment is said to be due to the fact that the Japanese people as a whole have believed the federal government was entirely willing that California adopt even the most drastic measures. It is expected that when the president's efforts to smooth out the situation becomes known that there will be at least a suspension of the anti-American demonstrations and the talk of making war on the United States.

Peace Congress in St. Louis. The program of the fourth American Peace Congress, which will be held in St. Louis May 1-3, has been announced. Among the speakers for the first day of the congress are Andrew Carnegie and Senator Theodore Burton of Ohio.

Others who will speak during the congress are Booker T. Washington, Edwin D. Mead, of Boston; John Lewis, editor of the Toronto Star; Justice Wm. R. Riddell, of the supreme court of Ontario, and Justice B. Russell, of Halifax.

Secretary of State Bryan will deliver two addresses May 3.

Fatal Explosion at Canal. A premature explosion of dynamite occurred between the Pedro Miguel Locks and the Miraflores Locks of the Panama canal.

Three men were killed and 23 wounded. Dynamite to the amount of about 21,000 pounds, filling 96 drill holes "let go."

The electric wires were not attached, and the only possible explanation seems to be that a sulphur formation at this point had generated heat.

Greatest English Vessel Launched. The largest steamship ever built in Great Britain, the Cunard liner Aquatania, was successfully launched on the Clyde.

The new vessel is double shelved and carries boats sufficient to accommodate 4,250 persons, the entire complement of passengers and crew. She is a vessel of about 47,000 tons gross.

Charles English, a farmer near Alameda, shot and killed a big bear just as the animal was about to enter the sheep shed.

At the last meeting of the Saginaw common council the endorsement fund of $20,000 left by the late ex-governor A. T. Bliss for the improvement of Bliss park was accepted.

In the first decision ever announced by the supreme court of the United States in regard to the use of X-rays, the tribunal held that the burden was on the plaintiff, in suits for damages resulting from the use of X-rays to show the physician, or defendants, was negligent, and that the physician in such suits need not show he was not negligent.

William Norgate, an aged resident of Ann Arbor, dropped dead at the seventh ward polling place, just after casting his vote. He had been an invalid for three years, following a stroke of paralysis.

Robbers entered the residence of Mrs. Mary H. Reynolds, at Jackson, some time during the month of March and carried off goods to the value of over $1,000. Mrs. Reynolds has been away from the city and did not discover the theft until her return recently. She at once took out a "John Doe" warrant for the thieves.

Reason for the Change in the Present Color of Mourning

Something more than a mere desire for change has brought about the use of white for those in mourning. It is the expression of a changing attitude of the mind toward this matter of mourning apparel. White is not somber or oppressive to others and therefore will make the most unobtrusive mourning. For the past three seasons black hats of crape (or other fabrics trimmed with crape) have been duplicated in white and it is probable that the idea has been well received because the most authoritative shops continue to show white mourning.

For the summer season veils are made of not bordered with crape. Those for first mourning are large but cool and light. Nevertheless, the very large, coarse mesh with wide crape border, either in black or white, can be worn without any inconvenience. It is probable that white crape and other mourning fabrics in white will make rapid progress in popular favor now that they are well introduced. White crape is a very beautiful fabric and the process of water proofing to which English crape is subjected has made it practical.

A turban and veil are pictured here developed in white. The turban is of crepe-Gorgette with veil of rich net bordered with white English crape. There is no trimming on the turban but the crape border on the veil planned to the front of the turban and turned back provides a beautiful decoration.

Almost a duplicate of this model is shown in black. These serve to demonstrate that it is now simply a matter of choice between black and white mourning. The introduction of crape in the body of the hat or in the veil or trimming is significant of mourning and makes these models appropriate for first or deep mourning. Crape is the only fabric everywhere acknowledged as correct for this purpose.

JULIA BOTTOMLEY.

VISITING DRESS

Our model is in gray face cloth. The skirt is draped at back and front up to the left side, where a large braided button is sewn; above this at front braiding is used to edge the side, also the sides of bodice, which rest on the silk waistcoat. A fold of black satin is taken across the waist, which forms a "V" over the lace chemise; the collar and upper part of sleeves are braided. A black satin bow is sewn at the back of neck and waistband.

Hat of black satin, trimmed with a feather mount.

Materials required: 5 yards cloth 48 inches wide, 1 dozen yards braid, 3/4 yard silk 20 inches wide, 1/2 yard lace 18 inches wide.

Platinum Jewelry.
A new and luxurious purse has the mesh of woven pearls incrustated with diamonds delicately set in platinum. Gold purses in new shapes are also made of this same mesh de luxe. One worthy of mention was hexagon shaped, held by a tiny platinum chain with a diamond and pearl incrustated ring intended to be slipped over the finger.

The pattern on each side of the bag represented a bit of head embroidery in bright colors, precious stones being substituted for the beads.

Neck Neck Frill.
A charming Parisian actress has adopted very becoming neck frills, which she wears on all her gowns. She has the gown cut in a small V and round this she wears a two-inch frill net full up in double and in front allowed to fall full. This dainty fashion leaves the throat bare to show a row of pearls, and yet there is no hard outline such as a severely turned-down lawn collar may show.

SERVICE AT AFTERNOON TEA

Flower Basket to Hold the Cakes is One of the Best of the Ideas Recently Evolved.

For the woman who loves a cup of tea in the afternoon and who also likes a small cookie or cheese cracker or some such tid-bit to nibble while sipping her tea, there is a new suggestion in the way of serving the wafers and cakes.

Often even a sandwich plate will be too small to hold as many crackers as are needed when three or four friends drop in for a cup of tea and gossip, and for this a flower basket, the style that is flat with a tall handle, generally used for the garden when picking flowers, is just the thing, for it holds a most surprising number of cakes, and in this way one can easily pass a large number of tid-bits at one time without the least inconvenience, and for crackers, decorated with jelly and cheese and such edibles as cannot be laid on top of each other, this flat basket is unsurpassed.

Pink Crepe Skirts.

Negligees and petticoats matching are everywhere to be had in pink crepe de chine; one perfectly plain one, unlined, with very scant elbow sleeves, is finished with the border of white elder down. It is priced at $7.95, and could be made more successfully for about half the amount at home. Another model is of pink charmeuse, draped with white chiffon and trimmed with a rosette in shadow lace, which is caught in with a rosette of the chiffon at one side of the skirt, but this gown is spoiled by a flowered white satin girdle. For those who care to dress a little out of the ordinary run of apparel there is a boudoir gown of greenish yellow nearly of mustard tone. Its material is crape de chine, and of course, stockings of silk and garters of satin, and the petticoat is to be had matching. Almost all the boudoir slips are of clear white lace. A woman may make herself very charming in the present styles in her boudoir.

Frills and Furbelows.

In Pierrot frills there is a charming novelty, the frill being of very fine white knitted net veiled by a still finer transparency of black net. Unless you see this you will hardly realize how sweet it is and how lightly the black rests mistily on its under killing.

Debutantes, of course, have always worn tulle, and equally of course they do so still, tulle with pretty groups of roses and flowing girdles of broche ribbon. At the same time older women are making net the favorite material for blouses, and the choice is not altogether unwise, for a well made net often wears better than chiffon, and white net is not difficult to wash and do-up.

Perfumed Corset Bags a Novelty.
Many women prefer to keep their corsets over night in long and narrow bags thickly padded and scented. These receptacles are made of all manner of dainty fabrics, but are most substantial in plain satin or heavy corded silk, hand-painted or hand-embroidered and decorated with old French prints framed with tinsel lace.

Tulle and Brocade Combined.
Tulle and brocade are used for sumptuous evening robes, when a large, rich pattern will compose part of the effect, and perhaps mousseline or fine tulle the other.

ENDED THE "RECALL"

PHASE OF ROOSEVELTISM PEOPLE WOULD NOT STAND FOR.

Disposition of the Case of the Others in Virginia an Answer to Absurd Theories Put Forward by the Leader of the "Third Party."

Floyd Allen and Claude Swanson Allen, father and son, died in the electric chair in the Virginia penitentiary at Richmond. Their execution was the stern answer of the courts and the people of Virginia to the doctrine of the "recall of judges," which the Allen clan had put into practical operation in Carroll county.

For years the members of the Allen family had dominated the politics and government of Carroll county. They cultivated the belief that an Allen was, and of right ought to be, in many ways above the law. Strange as it may seem, this lawless notion was largely accepted by the people of Carroll county.

When a young kinsman of Floyd Allen was arrested for disturbing religious meetings, and Floyd Allen was laid and soundly manacled the deputy sheriff and set his prisoner free, the performance does not seem to have been regarded as outrageous or even particularly unusual. Apparently the feeling was that the Allens were just exercising their privileges.

However, the judicial circuit of which Carroll county is a part happened to have a commonwealth's attorney and a judge who did not accept the Allen idea of the respect due to the laws and the courts. Floyd Allen himself was arrested, found guilty and was to go to prison. Having failed by their usual methods to intimidate the judge and prosecutor, the Allens determined to "recall" them.

On the day that sentence was to be pronounced on Floyd Allen the Allens packed the courtroom with armed men. They were the "effective majority" which Mr. Roosevelt has declared ought to have power to recall a judge or his decision when it is displeasing. The Allens opened fire as the judge pronounced the sentence. When the smoke cleared away the prosecutor, the sheriff and a juror lay dead on the floor and the judge lay dead across the bench.

Then the whole country saw what the "recall of judges" means, leads to, and is in practice. All thinking men saw that such a reversal of the decisions of a court of justice is the substitution of the rule of a passion-driven mob for the reign of law. And the state and people of Virginia woke up to the disgrace put upon them by this murderous outrage upon justice in her very temple.

MUST SEEK ANOTHER STATUS

Capital Now Has Come to the Parting of the Ways, Says Brooks Adams.

Because of the stubbornly reactionary attitude of the class which should be the most intelligent and flexible, the "Progressives," with Mr. Roosevelt swept onward at their head, are drifting into a movement which evidently will be disintegrating and not constructive, and our society cannot be much further volatilized without resolving into chaos. Life is tolerable under any form of orderly government. Amidst disorder it becomes intolerable. Also, amidst disorder, capital perishes first. Therefore, capital has come to the parting of the ways. If it be true, as the ordinary phenomena of our daily life seem to demonstrate, that capitalists can no longer control our society as of old, while enjoying their old immunities, because, as society increases in complexity and gathers momentum, money, when expended in certain directions, is losing its purchasing power, then capitalists must seek some other than the present status if they are to maintain themselves.

Apparently, the alternative offered is an absolute equality before the law, or social warfare beyond the law; and I should suppose that, as between the two, the warfare would be the more objectionable. Indeed, it might occur, even to some optimists, that capital would be fortunate were it able to secure its safety for another 50 years, on terms as favorable as these. There may be doubt, if it continue to tempt its fate as recklessly in the future as in the recent past, whether any equilibrium approximating to stability can be attained. There are plenty of dissolving societies to be observed in regions not far distant.—Brooks Adams, in Atlantic.

Democratic State of Mind.
Vice-President Marshall says Democracy is not a belief but an attitude of mind. The mental attitude of the average Democrat just now is one of uncertainty as to whether he will land that job or not.

Law-Maker and Law-Giver.
The colonel ought not to quarrel with the doctrine that the "man who finally interprets the law makes it." The colonel is something of a law-giver himself. When all the processes of law which he could invoke failed to produce anything justifying the discharge of the negro battalion at Brownsville he went ahead and discharged it anyway. "Moral law," he believed, he called it. "The sad thing about it was that contrary to expectations it did not split the solid south."

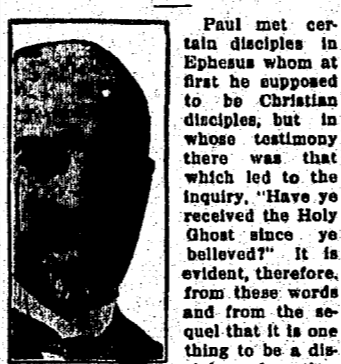

Different in Practice.
Tariff for revenue only is splendid in Democratic theory, but when it comes down to practice it is enlightening to see what a rabid protectionist each congressman may become in looking out for the interests of his own district.

Back to Power.
Uncle Joe Cannon says he expects the Republican party to be back in power in four years. Here is another chance for a disagreement with Colonel Roosevelt.

The Holy Spirit

By REV. JAMES M. GRAY, D. D.
Dean of the Moody Bible Institute
Chicago

TEXT—"Have ye received the Holy Ghost since ye believed?" Acts XIX. 2.

Paul met certain disciples in Ephesus whom at first he supposed to be Christian disciples, but in whose testimony there was that which led to the inquiry, "Have ye received the Holy Ghost since ye believed?" It is evident, therefore, from these words and from the sequel that it is one thing to be a disciple, and another thing to "receive the Holy Ghost."

This brings up the whole question as to the relation of the Holy Spirit to the disciple, or the believer in Christ.

1. The personality of the Holy Spirit. We should keep in mind that the Holy Spirit is a divine person. Personality consists in self-consciousness and free will, and that the Holy Spirit possesses personality in this sense is evident from three things: (a) He has the attributes of personality; (b) He does the works of a personality; (c) He has the name of a personality. Speaking of his attributes, there is one which, more than any other, helps to a realization of his personality. His attribute of love, which is referred to only in Romans 15:30. Do you know that the Holy Spirit loves you, as a believer in Christ, with a love in some sense distinct from that either of the Father or the Son? How marvelously near that brings him to our hearts! The Father's love manifested itself in the giving of his Son; the Son's love in the offering of himself upon the cross, and the Holy Spirit's love in taking up his abode in us.

2. The indwelling of the Holy Spirit. This brings us to the second thought, viz., the indwelling of the Holy Spirit. That indwelling was promised in John 14:16-17. He dwelt "with" the disciples therefore, but he was to dwell "in them" by and by. He had been as a power acting on them from without, but thereafter he was to influence them from within. The promise was renewed again in Acts 1:4-5, where the indwelling was likened of as the "baptism" of the Holy Spirit. The realization came on the day of Pentecost, when the disciples were indwelt, baptized and filled with the Holy Spirit at one and the same time.

This transaction, however, as far as the first two terms are concerned, was not limited to the church assembled on that day, but applies to the whole church since. Such would seem to be suggested by I. Corinthians, 12:13-14, where 20 years after Pentecost we are taught that as believers "we were all baptized by one Spirit into one body." What "body" is meant if not the body of Christ, the church? And what "baptism" if not that "one baptism" on the day of Pentecost? Is it not in consideration of this fact that Paul is able to say to this same church, in another place, "What? Know ye not that your bodies are the temples of the Holy Ghost?"

3. The filling of the Holy Spirit. But while the first two terms of that transaction on the day of Pentecost, the indwelling and the baptism (which are one) were for the whole church potentially, and for all time, yet the same does not apply to the third, the filling of the Holy Spirit. There is but one indwelling, but many fillings. We gather this from Acts 5:31, where the same persons who were "filled" on the day of Pentecost were re-filled on a subsequent occasion. And again, in Acts 6, when men are to be chosen to the office of deacon it must be by those who are "full of the Holy Spirit," as if some were thus spiritually equipped while others were not. It is something corresponding to this, therefore, which Paul has in mind in our text, when he said: "Have ye received the Holy Ghost since ye believed?" The reception of the Holy Ghost on their part resulted in an endowment of power, but in other places of the Acts, notably the fourth chapter, it is seen to have resulted not only in the spirit of power, but of unity and love. It is this that we ministers, evangelists and Christian workers need and that the whole church needs in order to accomplish her mission for Jesus Christ on earth.

How may the fillings of the Holy Spirit be received by the believer on the Lord Jesus Christ? Prayer, obedience and faith seem to be the only conditions, if they may be called conditions. Speaking of faith, there is a sense in which the gift of the Holy Spirit, i.e., the filling of the Holy Spirit, should be received by as definite an act on our part as that by which we laid hold of salvation through Jesus Christ; but this faith is not likely to be experienced where obedience is not present. "God giveth the Holy Ghost to them that obey him," Peter says (Acts V.), and this agrees perfectly with the teaching of the Old Testament in Proverbs 1: "Turn ye at my reproof, behold, I will pour out my spirit unto you." Nor is this obedience merely occasional with some great thing, but it is to be usual and common in the little things. The Christian whose habit it is to please God before the examples of his well-beloved Son, is one to whom the Holy Spirit is not given by measure. May God in his grace teach us this lesson.

Be always doing something serviceable to mankind, and let this constant generosity be your only pleasure.—Marcus Aurelius.

WOLVERINE NEWS BREVITIES

Niles.—Eugene C. Dana, born in Niles in 1833, died after a lingering illness. Mr. Dana was fraternal correspondent of the grand lodge, Knights of Pythias, of Michigan, and had been secretary of Niles lodge for 30 years. He was in the newspaper business in Niles in the sixties with Maj. L. A. Duncan, but gave it up for telegraphy and for 35 years was operator in the Niles Western Union office. He was physically deformed, but mentally was wonderfully brilliant. He delighted in the friendship of James Whitcomb Rellly, Ralph Parlette and other noted men.

Marquette.—Pinned under his locomotive when a passenger train on the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway ran into a washout and was wrecked near Saxon, Wis., Engineer Thomas McNulty of this city, is reported to have been drowned in the water of the ditch into which the engine plunged. The train was bound from Duluth to the Soo. All the cars were derailed and the locomotive was overturned. It is said that none of the passengers was injured.

Traverse City.—On account of the dry condition of the woods, which is very unusual for this season of the year, forest fires have been reported in the vicinity of this city. The city fire department was called to extinguish a blaze near the Aqueduct limits. Little damage has so far been reported. Warnings have been sent out by the firewarden, urging people to use caution in setting fires where there is danger of spreading.

Bay City.—On Saturday, April 26, it will be 15 years since Company B and the Twenty-third Infantry band answered McKimley's call and left Bay City for service in Cuba. Lawton camp No. 1, Spanish War Veterans, will observe the anniversary with a campfire at G. A. R. hall. Members of the G. A. R. with the Spanish war veterans of Saginaw, will be guests of honor.

Sandusky.—Tommy Wagg, aged eighteen, and his cousin, Edith Wagg, aged fifteen, were arrested on complaint of the father of the former, Samuel Wagg, a farmer living north of the city. The young man and girl, it is alleged, secured board and room at the home of O. Hanson, stating that they were married. Their arrest followed. The girl will be sent to Adrian.

Hastings.—Billy Allen, aged twenty-four years, lightweight champion of Jackson, died here of injuries received in a bout with T. L. Brady of Jackson. A punch on the jaw in the second round caused Allen to fall backward, striking his head against the ropes. In the next round Allen responded to the go, but soon sank to the floor unconscious.

Escanaba.—Seventy feet of dam No. 2 of the Escanaba Pulp & Paper company on the Escanaba river went out, flooding the power house and mill and lowering the water in the canal seven feet, necessitating the shut down of the power house and mill entailing damage of $5,000.

Adrian.—While painting a house on South Winter street Thomas H. Godkin fell from a 30-foot ladder to the ground and was seriously and probably fatally injured. He was still unconscious at a late hour and concussion of the brain is feared. Mr. Godkin is fifty-seven years old.

Holland.—Richard Plagemeyer, aged sixty-seven years, was found dead in bed. Plagemeyer put in a busy day in plowing his farm and retired in apparently good health, when his wife called for breakfast he was dead. Death was due to heart failure.

Port Huron.—Wishing to prevent any possible spread of disease, Health Officer Cote of this city visited Marine City to investigate the smallpox situation there. He says that the reports have been greatly exaggerated, and that at present there are only five cases of the malady in that town, all being under control.

Cadillac.—Herbert Hummel, thirty-eight, who was injured several weeks ago when a chair bottom kicked from under him, violently in the body, died from the effects of his injuries. He leaves a wife and three children.

Charlotte.—The Knights of Pythias of this city have appointed committees to make the necessary arrangements to open a K. P. clubhouse here. Efforts are being made to secure the Universalist church, corner of Lovet and Oliver streets, which for several years has been unoccupied.

Grand Rapids.—The county board of auditors paid Sherman White $300 for a broken leg received while working on the county good roads work. Then the board decided that the 500 employees on similar work must take out insurance policies to protect Kent county.

Pontiac.—Mrs. Agnes Thorpe was convicted in the circuit court of aiding and abetting a serious crime against thirteen-year-old Ruth Dowey, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Dewey of West Lawrence street.

Sault Ste. Marie.—Frank Frankovich, who escaped last February from the Ionia State hospital, was captured as he was about to board a train for Duluth. Frankovich, who was found guilty of attempted murder, was adjudged criminally insane and was sentenced to Ionia.

Ann Arbor.—C. E. Knisley, a student in the university from Galilan, O., ate a hamburger steak doctored with strychnine for rats, and died of the effects of the poison. Dr. R. D. Canfield, and a French pump saved his life.

No day is long enough to waste any of it nursing a grouch.

Arbor Day.

It was formerly a college custom, which still lingers, in some institutions, for each graduating class to plant a memorial tree to the accompaniment of impressive service and much speech making. Ancient and common as is this pleasing custom, it is a deplorable fact that the college campus which depends upon memorial trees for shade, is bare indeed. Neglect is almost always the fate of these saplings and early death their portion.

Infant trees, when deprived of their natural surroundings, need, like human infants deprived of their mother, a good deal of intelligent care. The promoters of Arbor Day celebrations do well to divert their efforts toward enlisting the children in this work.

To plant trees where they will do most good is the mission of Arbor Day, and if well selected, well planted, well cared for as saplings, these trees will continue to serve, please and benefit mankind long after the children of the children of the youth who planted them have gathered to their fathers.

The best capital, in nine cases out of ten, a young man can start in the world with, is robust health, sound morals, a fair intelligence, a will to work his way honestly, bravely, and if it be possible, a trade whether he follows it for a livelihood or not. He can always fall back on a trade when other paths are closed. The path of success in business is invariably the path of common sense. Notwithstanding all that is said about "lucky hits," the best kind of success in every man's life is not that which comes by accident. The only "good time coming" we are justified in hoping for is that which we are capable of making for ourselves.

Memories of what we learn through bitterness and sorrow may not always be held in regret.

Rice and Mushroom Croquettes.
Peel and cut one-half of a pound of mushrooms into small pieces, add two tablespoonsful of butter and simmer, covered, for half an hour. Add one-half of a cupful of well-washed rice, one tablespoonful of finely chopped onion, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of white pepper and one pint of water, and simmer until the rice is tender. More water may be added if necessary to keep from burning. When done, stir in two well beaten eggs; take quickly from the fire, add one tablespoonful of finely chopped parsley and put away until cold and firm. Form into small croquettes, dip each into slightly beaten egg, roll in fine crumbs and fry in smoking hot fat.

Date Charlotte.
Half a pound of good dates, one cupful and a half of water, three tablespoonsful of honey, the strained juice of one orange a few drops of red coloring, one heaping tablespoonful of gelatin and two cupfuls of whipped cream. Take the stones out of the dates. Put the water, honey and gelatin into a saucepan, then add the dates, cut in halves, the orange juice and the red coloring. Cook slowly until the dates are soft. Pour into a wet ring mold and set away in a cool place. Turn out when set and serve with the whipped cream in the center.—Marion Harris Nell.

White Cake.
Cream four ounces of butter or other shortening with one and one-half cups of finest granulated sugar and one-half teaspoon salt, add water and flour alternately, using altogether three-fourths cup of water and three cups of cake flour which has been sifted with three level teaspoonsful baking powder. Add last the whites of six eggs beaten until stiff, and flavor with one teaspoonful vanilla. Bake in two layers, placing the tin in a cool oven, and gradually increase the heat. Put together with any icing desired.

POULTRY NOTES

Clean soiled eggs.
Got a reputation for selling fresh eggs.

Do not keep eggs in a cellar or damp place.

Let the old roosters go before they eat their heads off.

About ten ducks are required to make a pound of feathers.

If chicken keeping doesn't pay don't be in too big a hurry to blame the chickens.

Goose feathers being more oily are apt to sooner turn rancid than chicken feathers.

Crude carbolic acid and coal oil make a fine disinfectant. Use a continuous spray.

A sovereign remedy for limberneck is four drops of turpentine in a teaspoonful of water.

Charcoal is a wonderful tonic at this time. See that the fowls get all they want of it to eat.

Poultry breeders need to know as much of the breeding worth of a fowl as cattle breeders of a bull.

The man with a fine lot of young chickens to sell, now is the one who has a smile that won't come off.

One sick chicken soon infects a whole flock. It is always safest to remove a bird at first signs of illness.

The essentials of poultry raising are cleanliness and close attention, coupled with hard work and common sense.

Supply hens with plenty of crushed oyster shell. The shells costs little and means much if it's winter eggs you are working for.

The hens relish green food of some sort and will amply repay you for the trouble of chopping up cabbage, potato peelings, turnips, etc.

Any egg eaters in the flock? Make the nests as dark as possible; that will help. If that doesn't discourage the culprit, sharpen up the ax.

In the long continuous poultry building it is desirable that an alloy be provided for the sake of convenience in passing through the building.

To Remove Oil Stains.
Do not make the mistake of putting hot water on machine oil stains. It will not remove the grease, but it may set it so firmly that it cannot be removed. If the garment stained is washable, rub the grease spot with cold water and soap immediately the accident has happened. Another good plan is to apply a little French chalk or gasoline to the spot taking the precaution, however, to insert underneath the material a piece of blotting paper. This to prevent a ring being perceptible when the grease has been removed.

Crust for Chicken Pie.
Sift together one pint of flour, one teaspoonful salt, two teaspoonfuls baking powder. Chop in two tablespoonfuls each of lard and butter. Mix with sweet milk to a stiff dough, roll out the size of the dish, butter the edge of the dish and cover with the crust. In the center make a deep cross, turn back the edges and insert a cone of stiff paper.

Dish-Mop Duster.
When dusting or cleaning floors there are always some places where even the finest mop will not clean, especially in corners and under some pieces of furniture and under and around radiators, where much dust collects. To clean these places one of the dish mops, to be found at any ten-cent store, works like a charm.

Dried Pea Soup.
Wash two cups of split peas, soak over night in a quart of water and in the morning add one quart of water. Let it boil up and skim. Add a small piece of bacon, one spoon of sugar, one green pepper chopped fine, salt and cook slowly until a smooth mass. Add one pint of cream just before serving.

Sandwich Spouts.
Cut bread in thin slices, remove the crusts, spread with a mixture of soft cheese moistened with cream to spreading consistency; season with salt and taste them quickly in hot water and serve.

Washing Good Lane.
Wash old and good lane by dipping it up and down in warm soapsuds and rubbing it very gently in the hands, and then, after it has been rinsed in warm water, it may be dried within the folds of a soft towel.

We pay three cents per pound for clean, cotton wiping rags.

MUCH COMFORT FOR POULTRY

Hens Sing and Cackle in Cozy Winter House When Kept Busy Scratching for Their Food.

In our winter poultry house on cold snowy days our hens sing and cackle as if they were enjoying summer weather. The house is 12x16 feet, with large windows on the southern exposure. Its equipment consists of clean, inviting nest boxes, self-feeders with grit and shells, the ground floor covered deeply with leaves and straw, writes George W. Brown of Hancock county, Ohio, in the New England Homestead. We keep the hens busy from daylight until porch time diggly after small grain scattered several times daily in the litter. Lawn clippings, meat offal, beets, pumpkins, cabbage and an occasional sheaf of wheat, oats or clover hay suspended from the roof gives them business.

It is the busy hen that lays the eggs. She hustles and has red blood coursing in her veins to keep her warm on cold days. Our perches can be hooked to the roof, and if we have any drones in the flock inclined to spend much of the day on the perch we just hook the perches to the ceiling. They soon get the habit of hustling with the rest of the flock. We have no use for drones on our farm save in our apiary.

HANDY FOR COLLECTING EGGS

Desirable to Keep Separate Box for Each Pen Where Trap Nests Are Being Used.

When trap nests are used it is sometimes desirable to keep a carrying box for each pen which receives the eggs as they are gathered, says the Farm and Home. Number each tray or box. When trap nests are used in some to correspond with the number of the pen. The holes in the bottom board keep the eggs in an upright position on the small end and where the numbers can be easily read.

HABIT OF EXCHANGING EGGS

Little Money and No Satisfaction in Practice—Best to Sell Direct to the Consumer.

There is no satisfaction, and but very little money in exchanging eggs for groceries or grain. By being careful in gathering eggs, so that they won't become chilled in winter and so the hens won't sit on them overnight and using a little care in sizing and selecting, quite an advance over the common prices may be obtained.

When possible, sell your eggs direct to the consumer. If not possible, get a market in your nearest city with some grocer who deals in strictly fancy groceries and provisions. Agree to furnish him only strictly fresh eggs, and then, for your own sake, live up to your agreement. Carefully clean all the eggs; don't send any small, misshapen or large ones. Stamp each egg with a rubber stamp, using your initials or the name of your farm, and in a short time you will have created a demand for your eggs, and when you have created such a demand your eggs will bring the highest prices, considerably more than your storekeeper would pay.

Several neighbors could send their eggs together, paying a cent or two per dozen to one of their number for doing the business, and in this way all would gain a little.

Cold-Storage Tests.
Tests of cold storage, as made by one of the experts of the department of agriculture led to the conclusion that poultry keeps better when not drawn than it does when drawn. The reason is that the process of drawing causes bruises which invite the lodgment of germs. Birds that were dry picked kept much better than those which had been scalded. The experts summed up the requirements as prompt storage, dry picking and dry chilling. These essentials have all been favorable to the cold-storage trade, but seem never to be comprehended by the host of agitators which every year try to secure absurd cold-storage laws.

Open Muslin Front Best.
A glass front poultry house causes extremes in temperature, warming up in the day time and then turning cold with the setting of the sun. This is also apt to cause disease and make the fowls' combs and wattles more sensitive to frosts. The open muslin front is by far the best and at the same time the least expensive. Some glass may be used, but not exclusively.

TASTY ENGLISH CAKES

SOME OF THE BEST OF THOSE POPULAR ACROSS THE SEA.

Dainty Confections Take Their Names From Towns in Which They Originated, But the Recipes Speak for Themselves.

In the homes of the old-fashioned country people there are to be found tried and true recipes for the cakes that have stood the test of hundreds of years in England and have been handed down (and over) to us in America.

Under many names these cakes taste as sweet. It is interesting to note that the names are given from the English town in which there were first popular.

Shrewsbury Cakes.—Sieve two pounds of flour and mix well with one pound of powdered sugar, one tablespoonful of ground cinnamon, one ounce of caraway and one nutmeg, grated. Beat and add separately the whites and yolks of four eggs and work in half a pound of butter until the mixture is a thick paste. Roll this out to about one-eighth of an inch thick, then cut in round cakes. Bake on a tin slightly floured for about twenty minutes.

Chelsea Buns.—Take two pounds of light dough and roll out a quarter of an inch thick. Cut four or six ounces of butter into small pieces and lay over the paste; fold it up and then roll out once or twice (as in making puff paste) adding some moist or powdered sugar the last time it is rolled out. Cut into strips half an inch thick and coil each one round into a little cake. Then cover the buns with a cloth and set in a warm place to rise. Bake on a buttered tin for about twenty minutes. Currants, candied peel and spices may be added with advantage.

Bath Buns.—Mix one and a quarter ounces of yeast with one teaspoonful of powdered sugar until they become liquid. Warm three gills of milk until almost tepid. Put one and a half pounds of flour through a sieve, and add a pinch of salt; then lightly rub in half a pound of butter and four ounces of powdered sugar, two ounces of sultanas, and the grated rind of one lemon. Mix the ingredients well, then add five eggs well beaten, and the yeast and milk. Mix the whole to a smooth dough, turn into a basin, cover with a cloth and set in a warm place till the dough rises to twice its size. This will take about one and a half hours. Place it on a floured board and work in almost four ounces of granulated sugar. Then break up the paste into rough heaps and put it on a buttered tin and sprinkle a little granulated sugar over the paste. Leave in a warm place to rise twenty minutes. Then bake in a quick oven for about twenty minutes.

Sally Lunns.—Mix a quarter of a teaspoonful of soft sugar with half an ounce of compressed yeast till liquid. Warm one and a half gills of milk and stir it into the yeast. Beat well an egg and stir it into the milk. Then strain the whole mixture into 12 ounces of sieved flour, to which half a teaspoonful of salt has been added. Turn on a floured board and knead lightly, sprinkling with a little flour to keep from sticking. Butter two deep, round tins and put half the dough in each, cover the tops with a greased paper and leave near the fire to rise for about half an hour, when the cakes should fill the tins. Then bake in a quick oven for about thirty minutes.

Apple and Brown Bread Pudding.
One pint brown bread crumbs, two-thirds cup suet fine chopped, one pint apple chopped fine, one-half teaspoon salt, one cup raisins, two tablespoons flour, one egg, one cup milk, one-half teaspoon ginger or other spice. Mix the crumbs and suet and add the apple, salt and raisins, dredged with flour, and the spice. Beat the egg, add the milk and stir into the dry ingredients. Steam two hours in a buttered mold. Serve with hard lemon or other liquid sauce.

Pot Roast With Tomatoes.
For the pot roast with tomatoes select a solid cut of meat from the bottom of the round. Brown all over in a teaspoonful of dripping, put in the casserole with two sliced onions, two sliced carrots and the thin part of the can of tomatoes used for the luncheon dish. Add salt and pepper, cover tightly and bake in a slow oven for four hours. Remove the meat to the serving platter, thicken the gravy and serve in a sauceboat.

Dish-Mop Duster.
When dusting or cleaning floors there are always some places where even the finest mop will not clean, especially in corners and under some pieces of furniture and under and around radiators, where much dust collects. To clean these places one of the dish mops, to be found at any ten-cent store, works like a charm.

Good Nut Food.
Cheatinuts on the menu may be substituted for potatoes or rice, and must be cooked in the same way. Peanuts which are believed to have a greater food value than meat, may be substituted for beans or meat. They may, with propriety, be served with potatoes or rice, but they are considered most ideal when mixed with hominy.

Roll small balls of cheese in pistachio nuts chopped fine and decorate each with the half of an English walnut.—The Ladies Home Journal.

Look to Your Plumbing.
You know what happens in a house in which the plumbing is in poor condition everyone in the house is liable to contract typhoid or some other fever. The digestive organs perform the same functions in the human body as the plumbing does for the house, they should be kept in first class condition all the time. If you have any trouble with your digestion, take Chamberlain's Tablets and you are certain to get relief. For sale by all dealers. Adv.

Howae are re-decorating and polishing the floors.

About 50,000 Colorado brook trout, direct from the hatcheries of that state were planted in the Ausable river by N. G. Goodar, at his place 12 miles down the river last Monday. This is the second large lot that he has planted there this year, as he planted 50,000 from Paris hatcheries in March.

Mr. Goodar is trying to do his part in keeping up the Ausable as the best trout stream in the United States.

The trout fishing season opens next Thursday, May 1st. The fishermen around here are "looking over their outfits" and getting ready to enjoy some of this fine sport. This promises to be a fine season for trout, as hundreds may be seen from the bridges almost any day. Our local dealers carry fine lines of fishing tackle, selected for their merits of what is best to use in the rivers and lakes of this region. Our out of town friends will do well to buy their fishing tackle in Grayling and get the benefit of these dealers' experience of what is best to use.

The following letter, addressed to Mr. Hanson, is the second letter received from the relief committee at Dayton:

DAYTON, OHIO, April 11, 1913. To The Honorable Mayor, Grayling, Michigan.

Dear Sir: As Chairman of the Dayton Citizens' Relief Committee, I desire to extend to you and, through you, to the people of Grayling our sincere thanks and deep appreciation of the material assistance you have afforded us. Please accept this grateful recognition of your practical sympathy, not only in behalf of this committee, but in the name of every citizen of Dayton.

It is a beautiful tribute to the American people when one city will come to the relief of another, sorely afflicted, with the promptness and whole-heartedness with which the city of Grayling answered the call of Dayton's distress.

Our city is passing through a dark period in her history, yet we are not dismayed; the words of cheer, encouragement and kindly sympathy we have received from our sister cities throughout the length and breadth of the land, large and small alike, have lightened the gloom that surrounded us and given us strength to enter confidently upon the work of building a bigger, better and grander Dayton.

We shall never forget your kindness to us and Grayling will ever be held in fond and grateful remembrance by every man, woman and child who calls Dayton "home".

Very sincerely, JOHN H. PATTERSON, Chairman Dayton Citizens' Relief Committee

ARBOR AND BIRD DAY.

Proclamation issued by the Governor of Michigan.

"The tremendous commercial value of forests is fast coming to be appreciated. Effort is being made throughout the United States to conserve what remains and so far as possible, reforest large tracts of territory. Trees have a great value other than commercial. They are friends to man and beast. Without friends man is a forlorn creature. Every choice tree that is planted not only increases this generation, but graciously bequeaths coming generations. Birds have an economic value in the distribution of plant life and in the destruction of harmful insects. They also have a higher value. Literature abounds in allusion to birds, their nests, songs, food, flight, migration, plumage and habits. On account of their beauty, countless numbers of our winged friends have been killed to meet the ruthless demands of fashion. May the fathers and mothers and their children of today use their best efforts to preserve and perpetuate the lives of our useful and beautiful birds. Love for birds is akin to love for man."

Therefore, I, Woodbridge N. Ferris, governor of the state of Michigan, do hereby designate Friday, May 9th, A. D., 1913, as Arbor and Bird Day, and do request that this day be observed by all schools, public and private, and other educational institutions by the planting of trees for beautifying school grounds and parks, and by conducting suitable exercises for promoting the spirit of protection to trees and birds.

Given under my hand and the great seal of the state, this first day of April, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, and of the Commonwealth the seventy-seventh.

to the park. It was the middle of the afternoon and the great thoroughfare lay still and idle in the slanting light. There was something foreign, almost tropical in its vista, in the scene that hung like a drop curtain at the limit of sight—pale blue hills dotted with ochre-colored houses—in the background of sky deep in tint, the foliage stark against it as if printed upon its surface glowing blue, in the damp lines of palms and spiky leaves crowning outcashed walls. The people that moved slowly along the sidewalks faded into this high-colored exotic scene in-law's quick sentence, delivered on the rise of a surprised breath.

WHAT TO PLANT AND WHEN

Advice by an Expert on Agricultural Matters—Making a Good Lawn—Rules for Feeding Horses—Growing Blackberries.

By PROF. JOHN WILLARD BOLTE.

The custom of covering the ground about our homes with a grass sod or lawn is a very old one. Lawns are mentioned in one way or other in the histories of practically every nation with which we are familiar. In early days they were used only by the nobility in the land, the reigning families and the nobility, principally because no one else possessed sufficient land to grow grass or anything else on.

Probably these lawns were rather rough in contour, and we imagine that they were not of very great extent, as they had to be clipped by means of sickles or hand shears. Later on in England and France it became customary to pasture a flock of sheep on the lawns and park grounds about the country homes, and this charming pastoral custom still maintains in many places. Quite a number of our city parks and clubs in this country follow this practice to advantage.

The sheep eat the herbage close to the ground, and they clean up grass and weeds alike. Their droppings enrich the soil, they are not heavy enough to cut up or pack the surface, and their appearance and associations cannot but give keen enjoyment to all lovers of nature.

If your grass stand is thin, patchy or weedy, it will be a good plan to sow some grass seed on the moist ground as early as possible, having first raked it over and scratched up the surface. Sow the seed broadcast and sow it thickly. A good commercial fertilizer sown at this time will help the old sod and the new seedlings. It is not advisable to use barnyard manure in the spring under most circumstances, but it will have an excellent effect on any lawn if spread on thickly in the fall. When this has been done, rake it off as early as possible in the spring and sow your grass seed over the bare spots as soon as the manure has been raked off. Horse manure is better than cow manure for almost any garden or lawn purposes, because it is lighter and more porous, warms up quicker and its fertilizing elements are much more quickly available. Be careful about the sources from which you secure manure, as it may contain live weed seeds which will take possession of your lawn in a very short time. It is an excellent plan to roll the lawn thoroughly from time to time, while it is in a reasonably moist condition. The rough places will be leveled, the whole sod will be smoothed, and better connection will be formed between the sod and the water contained in the subsoil.

As soon as the snow is gone and the sod is firm enough to walk on, it should be raked thoroughly with an iron rake, to remove the dead grass and leaves from the roots of the grass. Be careful not to drive or walk on the lawn at any time when it is soft enough to show the tracks, as an irreparable amount of damage can be done in this way. The grass should not be cut until it has secured a good lush growth, but after the first cutting and throughout the spring months, it should be kept trimmed short and the clippings should be caught in a carrier of your mower, so as to prevent them from covering up the growing grass. After the weather becomes hot, and particularly if it is dry, it is not well to cut the lawn so often, as the sun is liable to kill the roots if they are too much exposed.

Be careful not to drive or walk on the lawn at any time when it is soft enough to show the tracks, as an irreparable amount of damage can be done in this way. The grass should not be cut until it has secured a good lush growth, but after the first cutting and throughout the spring months, it should be kept trimmed short and the clippings should be caught in a carrier of your mower, so as to prevent them from covering up the growing grass. After the weather becomes hot, and particularly if it is dry, it is not well to cut the lawn so often, as the sun is liable to kill the roots if they are too much exposed.

feed and may develop violent disorders.

A warm bran mash with a handful of salt in it is an excellent feed for Saturday night. It loosens the bowels, prevents colic and ascaris, and keeps the horse in fine condition.

10. Finally, use good horse sense. See that your horse is comfortable before you look out for yourself. Start him easy, work up to the pull gradually, protect him when overtired or heated, feed as outlined and your horse will rarely have digestive troubles.

Starting a Blackberry Patch.

New plantings of blackberries should be made just as soon as the ground is free from frost and dry enough to work with. Plant the cuttings in rows, three feet apart in the row, and have the rows from six to eight feet apart. Remember that blackberries multiply and form a solid row of canes in a comparatively short time, hence do not plant too thickly.

Blackberries will grow in almost any soil, but it must not be too dry a location, as they require a good deal of water or the fruit will be dry and pithy.

They seem to do better in a moderately good soil than in a very rich one, as excessive feeding produces stalks and leaves instead of fruit.

The seed bed should be well prepared and leveled before putting in the cuttings. In setting, be sure to get the earth firm about the cuttings, and water occasionally during the first month.

Blackberries will need some cultivation, particularly during the first year. A good plan is to grow low garden crops between the rows and give them ordinary vegetable cultivation. This will make the ground yield two crops for one cultivation.

Do not allow the berry rows to spread more than two feet wide. They will form a solid mass unless kept down between the rows.

Prune in the fall or winter by removing all of the old stalks, cutting them off at the ground. Cut back the new wood a half with the pruning shears. This causes the formation of fruit buds instead of wood and leaves.

There are a rather large number of good varieties to select from and your seedsmen will be glad to advise you regarding which to plant. Early bearing varieties like Early Harvest and Snyder do excellently in northern latitudes as well as in the south. El dorado is an old standby with small fruit farmers and it is not subject to the parasitic disease known as blackberry cane rust. This disease is hard to overcome and the best cure is to cut out all infected canes as soon as the rusty spots are noticed.

Blackberries are hardy and bear every year. The fruit is delicious, either preserved or fresh, and it can be made into excellent wine or cordial.

On a larger scale one can count on selling at least an average of $200 worth of berries yearly per acre, and often as high as $300 to $500 worth. The expense of cultivation and picking running about $50 per acre. This offers an excellent proposition to the suburbanite with a few acres.

Use of Tankage.

In regards to use of tankage, will say I believe it to be a valuable feed where other sources of protein grown on the farm are not available. I have been feeding it for about two years in connection with middlings made into this slop. I mix about three parts middlings to one part tankage and use with one or two parts corn, varying the proportions with the age and size of the hogs. The hogs also have the run of a blue grass pasture, says a writer in an exchange. When skim milk is available I use less tankage. I am unable to give the exact cost of producing a pound of pork when using this feed, but am satisfied it is proving a valuable supplement. There is one thing sure, namely, young pigs must have a growing ration to be profitable.—Exchange.

Arabian Honey.

Mentioned by historians as an important export from Aden in early times, is no longer an item in the export trade. Small quantities, however, continue to come from Mokalla, 400 miles east of Aden, and it is also exported from that place to India in small quantities. The decline in the honey and wax industry has been gradual for centuries, and is attributed to a diminution in the rainfall. The honey that comes to market in Aden is packed in gourds and goatskins and sometimes in hollow pumpkins.

Grading Hogs.

Hogs of different ages and sizes will not do well in one herd. They should be separated into small herds, according to their ages and conditions. Sows and growing pigs should not be allowed to be in the same lot with fattening hogs. The excessive corn diet is not so good for their growth and production, and with large fattening hogs the smaller ones will be crowded and injured.

Good Idea.

Breeding for May Pigs.

The man who breeds his sows for May pigs improves his chances for a full crop of pigs, because outdoor exercise and a variety of feeds have toned up the health of the sows. It means stronger pigs and a more wholesome supply of nourishment.

A small field of rape nearby the hog yards and a few rods of woven wire fencing will prove of great value in conditioning the breeding animals and young things.

WHERE CITY OF VENICE PLAYS

Gay Scene and Picturesque Characters to Be Seen at Lido and at the Bathing Beaches.

Venice.—In his article on the Lido, the great playground of Venice, in Harper's, Harrison Rhodes gives an amusing picture of the gay life of the place and its curiously cosmopolitan character.

Bathing is more elegant in the morning and from one's own thatched hut, but it is more fun in the afternoon and from the establishment. The bath-houses are capacious and well equipped, and good natured bachelors attendants—in white sailor costumes—are on hand to install you and run your errands. There is a general geniality about the service, and a recognition of the cosmopolitan quality.

Hotel Corridor Looking on Sea.

of the duties demanded. One smiling creature, last summer, as he opened your cabin, closed for the moment the English grammar which he was studying in the interests of communication with the forestier. There is, too, if you come often enough, a cheerful, familiar greeting and a quarter-hour's pleasant gossip whenever you have time.

The gentleman, for example, who checks your valuables while you bathe may be occasionally seen at the theater of an evening, clad in doublet and hose and singing in the chorus when they give "Rigoletto" or the "Barbieri." In his day, you will discover, he paid many visits to London and to New York, where he sang in the chorus at the Metropolitan. He now retires willingly to a more inactive and more social occupation, and plans to rear his seven male offspring to sing in due time in the opera chorus. He has his own philosophy of life, too, and cheerfully threatens to divorce his wife should she present him with even one female child. Conversation with him is indeed a pleasant prelude to the bath.

Other characters there are—of long or standing; for the Lido in a quiet way has been a sea bathing place for a long, long time. Three years ago died there a bronzed and weather-beaten old man who for forty years had stood at the entrance to the bath-houses, offering for sale shells and small dried sea horses tied by the tails in groups of three. These latter, of assorted sizes, were a family, he explained—a "famiglia"—padre, madre, figlio. He grew older and his eye dimmed, but he always smiled insatiably and muttered his chant of famiglia. At the end his mind seemed to go; there was nothing left but the vacuous smile and the vacant mouthing of the phrases about father, mother and son.

FEEDS A TRAMP, GIVEN $500

Check Proves Truth of Adage, "Bread Cast Upon Waters"—Recipient Keeps a Boarding House.

Sliderville, W. Va.—In a letter from a law firm in Bakersville, Cal., Miss Jessie Watkins, a seamstress, received a check for $500 with a letter of explanation; it was a bequest in the will of Nathan Sanderby. Six years ago Sanderby was a tramp and Miss Watkins was conducting a boarding house at Robinson. She gave the tramp his breakfast and 50 cents. He inquired for her name, which she refused to give, but he learned the name from others in the town.

He made his way to Bakersville, secured work in the oil fields, took up a lease and became wealthy. His entire estate, with the exception of the $500, goes to his only surviving relative, a brother.

SAYS VEILS ARE INJURIOUS

Noted English Physician Inaugurates a Crusade Against Habit of Women Covering Faces.

London.—Women who constantly wear veils suffer in time from deterioration of the features. This was the statement made by Sir John Cockburn, M. D., speaking at the Royal Sanitary Institute. Sir John said he wanted to make a crusade against women's veils. Nothing was more beautiful than the human face divine, while veils had awful spots, making women look as if they had black eyes and fearful grimaces.

"THE CLIMATE OF WESTERN CANADA."

AN IMPORTANT FACTOR IN CANADA'S IMMIGRATION.

A letter dated February 2, 1912, published in a "People's Voice" column in a Swedish paper, while dealing with other conditions in Canada, such as grain yield, social conditions, etc., says: "We have had fine weather until New Year's, when some snow fell and was cold for a few days, but during the past few days we have lovely weather again." The writer, who lives near Davidson, Sask., says they got from 30 to 35 bushels of wheat per acre, 60 bushels of oats and about 20 bushels of flax. All homesteads are taken in the vicinity, but wild land can be bought at reasonable figures. Word from Alberta gives the information that up to the 22nd of February there were eighty-four and a quarter hours of bright sunshine, but that did not come up to the corresponding month of 1912, when the meteorological department registered 120 hours for the 29 days.

February was exceptionally fine all through, but 1912 went one better, and was a glorious month. However, taking the weather generally throughout the northern hemisphere, February has been marked by serious and severe disturbances resulting in heavy storms, bad weather and low temperatures in many other parts.

The coldest temperature this week occurred on Tuesday morning, when the thermometer registered 23.5 below, and the coldest Wednesday was 1 below. During the last fortnight of February and 8.7 hours of bright sunshine spread its glorious rays over Edmonton, and this out of a possible total of about ten hours is something to talk about.—Advertisement.

Kaiser's Long Pedigree. Among the curiosities of the New Palace, Potsdam, which has been the scene of a fire, is a genealogical tree showing the name of King David engraved at the root of it, with that of the Kaiser at the top, the descent being traced through his mother's family.

According to this genealogy the reigning house of Great Britain is descended from David through the eldest daughter of Zedekiah, who fled to Ireland in charge of the Prophet Jeremiah, and eventually married Here-mon, King of Ulster. Apparently the Kaiser is fond of gazing upon this proof of his ancient lineage, for it occupies a conspicuous position in his study.

HANDS ITCHED AND BURNED

Abbottford, Wis.—"My son had eczema on his hands for about one year. The eczema started with a rash. His hands were so sore he could not close them, and when he wet his hands they hurt him so he could hardly wash. His hands itched and burned just terrible and if he would scratch them, they would break out into sores. He could not get any rest or sleep, and his hands looked quite bad.

"We had medicine and salve and it kept getting worse all the time. I got some Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and after washing his hands with the Cuticura Ointment on two times a day and tying cloths on them for about six months they got well and have not broken out since. Cuticura Soap and Ointment cured him entirely." (Signed) Mrs. Lawrence Klehl, Feb. 13, 1912.

SAN JAK

The Greatest Cure and Preventive for Bright's Disease.

No one ever cured kidney trouble with a pill, powder, tablet or mineral water. The reason is there is nothing in them by which you can force the drug to the vital point and neutralize the poison in the tissue and reduce the inflammation or granulation of the kidneys. (These are statistics by the most eminent men in the faculty.)

Symptoms of kidney trouble—swelling under the eyes, grayish white or wax color of the skin denotes granular diseases of the kidneys. The cure is SAN-JAK. The reason is clear. SAN-JAK neutralizes poison in the tissue of the vital organs of the body, clearing away inflammation and catarrh in all parts of the digestive tract and vital organs. SAN-JAK is the only preparation allowing a normal expansion of the kidneys at all times, by which action the kidneys are enabled to absorb alkaline phosphates, which are the decomposed products of the bowels, and eliminate them. Otherwise, in renal weakness, this condition is the cause of ill health and Bright's with rheumatism.

SAN-JAK will not harm a well person, and for the weak ones its faithful use means perfect health and strength for young and old.

Man should die of old age, not disease. San-Jak will keep your blood as pure as a lily. We sell San-Jak and will guarantee satisfaction or return the price of one bottle, $1.00.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed, the hearing is lost, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed for ever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous membrane.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness, caused by catarrh, that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

CHILDREN ALL SICK WITH COLD.

COUGHING, FEVERISH, AWAKE ALL NIGHT

Use Pure and Pleasant Dr. King's New Discovery. Relieves the Cough, Loosens the Cold, Promotes Rest and Sleep.

When your family is visited by a cold epidemic and your home seems like a hospital, your children all have colds, cough continually, are feverish and restless at night, sleep little and then not the sound, refreshing sleep children need. You yourself are almost sick and awake most of the night, caring for them. You need Dr. King's New Discovery.

It quiets the children's cough instantly. It is pure and pleasant. Children like it. By relieving the cough promotes sleep and gives you and the children the much needed rest.

Get a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery from your druggist. He will refund your money if it doesn't give relief.

W. H. Knowles, of Oaco, Ill., writes: "We have given Dr. King's New Discovery the most thorough tests for coughs, colds and various bronchial troubles for six years, and have never found it to fail."

"For about three months I had the worst kind of a cough," writes W. P. Rinehart of Asbury, N. J. "It would keep me awake for hours at night. All the medicines I took did not help me till at last I used Dr. King's New Discovery. Three doses gave me the first good night's rest I had in months and further use completely cured me." Sold by

Danish Root Seeds

The climate and soil of Denmark are perfectly adapted to the production of perfect mangels, carrots, rutabagas, turnips, cabbages and cauliflower. No other country produces seeds of these kinds equal to the Danish. I have just received a large shipment of these seeds direct from the most experienced grower in that country. Ask for prices.
